Washington Gives Solemn Expression of Sorrow at Death of Roosevelt.

MANY TRIBUTES GIVEN

Flags On Every Government Building Throughout the United States, at Army Camps and On Naval Vessels at Half Mast.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Washington, representing the nation at large, gave solemn and earnest expression to the country's regret at the death of Theodore Roosevelt and its admiration for his character and achievements.

Flags on every government building throughout the United States and at every army post and on every naval vessel were ordered placed at half mast. The Senate and House adjourned after eulogies of the former president had been delivered by both Republicans and Democrats, and committees had been appointed to attend his funeral and the Supreme court took unprecedented action in adjourning without the transaction of any business.

News Cabled to Wilson. Formal tributes were paid Colonel Roosevelt by government officials, members of Congress and cabinet officers. President Wilson was cabled the news by the executive officers of the White House. Many touching statements of personal grief were made by men and women who had been associated closely with the former president during his life in Washington, particularly the seven years of his residence in the White House and members of the diplomatic corps expressed the admiration which the people in foreign lands held for him.

The bust of Colonel Roosevelt in the Senate corridor was draped in crepe. The National Press club, where the former president frequently had been a guest and speaker, postponed its annual inauguration of officers and the frolic to follow.

Political effects of Colonel Roosevelt's death began to be discussed, even while the country mourned one of the leading figures in American life. Inasmuch as Colonel Roosevelt had been mentioned prominently as a possible presidential nominee in 1920, it was inevitable that his passing should cause speculation as to other candidates.

Since the Republican schism of 1912 and the return of the Democrats to power, Colonel Roosevelt admittedly had been out of harmony with some elements of his party. Discussion as to possible standard bearers in 1920, which began with the spread of rumors several days ago that Colonel Roosevelt was about to announce formally that he would not be a candidate, started anew and several prominent senators, influential governors and others were mentioned.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS

Attorney General Announces Death of Colonel Roosevelt.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The supreme court adjourned immediately upon the announcement of Colonel Roosevelt's death by Attorney General Gregory, who, in making the motion, said:

"It is with great regret and sadness that I announce the death of Theodore Roosevelt. He was formerly president of the United States as well as a citizen, soldier and statesman of the United States."

Chief Justice White replied: "The court sorrows to learn of the death of this great and conspicuous son of the republic, whose service the country has lost and it is glad to give this mark of respect by granting the motion of the attorney general."

ASSAILANT VOICES REGRET

Man Who Shot Roosevelt at Milwaukee Told of Death.

Waupun, Wis., Jan. 7.—"I am sorry to learn of his death. He was a great American. His loss will be a great one for the country."

This expression over the death of Colonel Roosevelt came, not from an ordinary citizen, but from John Schrank, the man who shot him while he was in Milwaukee in the fall of 1912.

Schrank is confined in the hospital for the criminal insane here.

BIG TURNOUT AT TURIN

President Wilson Winds Up His Visit to Italy.

Party Is Welcomed by Gathering of More Than 1,000 Mayors of Cities and Towns.

Turin, Italy, Jan. 7.—President Wilson wound up his visit to Italy, by a visit to Turin, which gave him another tumultuous welcome, quite as hearty as the greetings he received at Genoa and Milan. Altogether, however, the greeting was more orderly.

Again, thousands of persons flocked the streets and rent the air with shouts of "Viva Wilson, God of Peace," and similar expressions. After a round of receptions which included the freedom of the city being conferred upon him, a luncheon at which the President made a speech and a visit to the University, where an honorary degree was conferred upon him, President Wilson and his party departed for Paris, where they are due to arrive tomorrow morning.

The most picturesque feature of President Wilson's visit here was the gathering of more than a thousand mayors of cities and towns in Piedmont to greet him. They came from the hills, the fields and the valleys and virtually every crossroad community was represented as well as the cities. Each of the mayors wore a sash of the national colors. They represented all walks of life and every condition of society.

TO VISIT UNITED STATES

President Poincare of France May Come Next Summer.

Paris, Jan. 7.—President Poincare will probably visit the United States late in June or early in July. This announcement was made by the president himself.

When it was suggested that the greatest reception ever accorded a foreign ruler was awaiting him, the president said:

"I must return President Wilson's visit. I am not looking for the honors of a reception. I simply wish to thank America and Americans for what they have done for the cause of Liberty and France."

CERTIFICATES FOR SERVICE

Papers Will Be Given Men Discharged From Navy.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Certificates of honorable service will be given men leaving the naval service before the expiration of their terms of enlistment. Secretary Daniels said in a letter to Senator Fletcher of Florida. The certificates will be given to those who did not remain in the service long enough to acquire a sufficient number of marks of merit to entitle them to an honorable discharge.

President Back in Paris, Will Work

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)
Paris, Jan. 7.—Back in Paris today President Wilson plunged immediately into the final preliminaries which precede the formal peace deliberations. The president returned from Italy armed with the obvious support of the common people of that country. The joint conference of the Americans, British, Italians and French delegations are expected to get under way early next week.

Government Ownership Leased Operation Favored by Cummings

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, Jan. 7.—Government ownership of railroads, the railroads to be leased to private operating companies, was advocated today by Senator Cummings of Iowa, republican, who will be chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee after March 4th. As Cummings outlined his plan to the United Press it provides, first, for government ownership, second, leasing of roads under strict terms to private concerns; third, the maintenance of a dozen or so competing lines to operate with unified terminals; fourth, a cabinet officer or government administrator or possibly a small board, and fifth, the issue of capital stock to cover equipment.

Fierce Fighting in Streets Throughout City

(By United Press)

Munich, Jan. 7.—Complete anarchy reigns in Berlin according to telephone messages today. Civil war has broken out between the Spartacus group and the government faction. Thousands of workers are fighting in the streets.

The rattle of machine guns can be heard throughout the city. The Spartacists have barricaded themselves in many of the public buildings and are reported to hold all the banks. Later telephone messages said the government forces are planning to storm the police station. Karl Liebknecht is reported personally leading the Spartacists. Hundreds are fleeing from the city. Copenhagen dispatches said women are supporters of both factions are participating in street fighting in Berlin.

Secret Diplomacy Thing of the Past

BY FRED S. FERGUSON.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 7.—The death of secret diplomacy is expected to be sounded when the formal peace deliberations of the associated powers open next week. The feeling was growing among officials today that these sessions which probably will start at Versailles January 13th or 14th, should be open to the press of the world. Inasmuch as the allied nations have agreed that secret diplomacy must be abolished, it was felt the American attitude that this is the time to put the principle into effect should receive ready endorsement by other delegations. The sessions are likely to be more or less formal, but they are expected to be symbolic of the new era of open diplomacy and the abolition of secret treaties. The first subject, of course, will be the discussion of the extension of the armistice. This is, however, a strictly military matter. The next subject, probably, will be the league of nations.

RUSS GENERAL SLAIN

Brusilov, Former Commander-in-Chief, Killed at Moscow.

General Kuropatkin Also Murdered, According to Reports Reaching Stockholm.

Stockholm, Jan. 7.—General Brusilov, former commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has been killed at Moscow, according to dispatches received here.

A dispatch from Bergen stated that General Kuropatkin, who commanded the Russian armies in the Russo-Japanese war, had been murdered. Bolsheviks deny responsibility for his death; the dispatches add.

Maxim Gorky, the Russian author and revolutionist, has been elected a member of the Petrograd soviet, according to Russian advices.

France Opposes Russ Campaign.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Officials returning from France and who have been in intimate contact with French opinion, state that the sentiment of the nation is opposed to intervention in Russia, which it conceives as meaning a new war.

French financial interests, especially the large capitalists, on the other hand, desire Allied intervention in Russia on a large scale, but are fearful that popular hostility on the part of the masses to the proposal if pushed might prevent even limited intervention, and are inclined to take an opportunist view of the situation in Russia.

It is the opinion of these authorities that the Allied nations everywhere find popular disapproval of any project contemplating the dispatch of large forces to Russia, and that the utmost the Allies will be able to plan and execute is the complete dissolution of the bolsheviks, using in addition to their navies and small land contingents native and antibolshevik troops.

PAYS RESPECT TO COLONEL

Stranded Transport Places Its Flag at Half Mast.

Fire Island, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Flags on the United States transport Northern Pacific, still stranded on a sandbar off Fire Island light, were lowered to half mast out of respect to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. The cruiser Columbia and a flotilla of salvage tugs standing off shore also brought their flags fluttering down.

The tugs, which failed at high tide to pull the Northern Pacific far out of her sandy bed, are, nevertheless, pulling away at her, lest she settled back with the incoming tide.

King and Queen of England Knew Colonel Roosevelt Well.

London, Jan. 7.—King George and Queen Mary, receiving the news of Colonel Roosevelt's death, expressed the deepest regret.

Their majesties, who were at Sandringham palace, prepared immediately to telegraph condolences to Mrs. Roosevelt as they did at the time of Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt's death.

HOIST AMERICAN FLAG

Food Commission for Poland Arrives in Warsaw.

Mission's Purpose Will Be to Sell Supplies at Cost Prices to Inhabitants.

Warsaw, Jan. 7.—The American food commission for Poland arrived in Warsaw and established offices and living rooms in the famous Blue palace, above the portals of which the Stars and Stripes now float.

The civilian head of the mission, Dr. Vernon C. Kellogg, former director of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium, expressed satisfaction with the mission's reception, which had been enthusiastic from the very borders of Galician Poland.

The mission, which is to sell supplies at cost prices, has been requested to import at once sufficient quantities of food, shoes, clothing and medicine to send down the extravagantly high prices which now are asked in the local markets.

FUNERAL NEXT WEDNESDAY

Roosevelt Obsequies To Be Held at Oyster Bay Church.

Oyster Bay, Jan. 7.—The hour for the Roosevelt funeral is officially announced for 12:45 p. m. Wednesday at Christ Episcopal church here.

Two services will be held, one at Sagamore Hill, the other at Christ's church here, which the Roosevelts have for years attended. Rev. George Talmage, rector, is expected to officiate.

Colonel Roosevelt will be buried at Young's Memorial cemetery, Oyster Bay, in a plot selected by the colonel and his wife shortly after he left the White House.

PROMPT ACTION WILL BE SOUGHT

House Committee Approves Request of President Wilson for Relief Funds.

VOTE IS VERY CLOSE

Bill Will Be Presented to House by Chairman Shirley — Provides $100,000,000 to Feed Starving Peoples in Europe.

Washington, Jan. 7.—By a vote described as "very close" the House appropriations committee approved the request of President Wilson that Congress appropriate $100,000,000 for relief work in Europe, outside of Germany.

The bill, as finally agreed upon, will be reported to the House and Chairman Shirley said he would seek prompt action.

Opposition to the President's proposal was not on party lines. Democrats as well as Republicans voicing disapproval. Only 11 of the 21 members of the committee were present and it was said one of these abstained from voting. No announcement of the vote was made, but it was understood that it was seven to six, with Chairman Shirley casting the deciding ballot.

Some members were said to have protested that a comprehensive plan for the administration of the relief should have been presented to the committee and insisted that definite information should have been given as to the amount of contributions to be made by Allied countries. They also were understood to have expressed doubt whether the country, in view of heavy war taxes and another loan, next spring, would approve of the direct gift of any part of the money, or be able to sustain added financial burdens.

CRUISERS CARRYING TROOPS

Huntington and St. Louis Sail From Brest for New York.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The cruisers Huntington and St. Louis sailed from Brest Jan. 2, and are due at New York Jan. 15 with about 3,000 troops. The 57th artillery, coast artillery corps, and the headquarters of the 39th coast artillery brigade are coming home on the Huntington. One-third of the 1,700 officers and men of the 57th artillery aboard this ship are from the New York national guard.

Aboard the St. Louis is the 346th field artillery, comprising 45 officers and 1,255 men, nearly all of whom will be sent to Camp Lewis, Washington, for demobilization.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Six members of the National Woman's party, in police court for kindling fires opposite the White House, which they intended to keep burning until the Senate passed the suffrage resolution, were sent to jail after refusing to pay fines. Mrs. Phoebe Munnecke of Detroit, Mrs. Dubrow of Passaic, N. J., and Julia Emory of Baltimore, were given $10 or 10 days, and Alice Paul, chairman of the party, Mrs. Lawrence Lewis of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Annie Arnett of Wilmington, Del., were fined $5 each or five days in jail.

POLISH LEADERS DISAGREE

Paderewski and Pilsudski Cannot Come to Terms.

Warsaw, Jan. 7.—Ignace Jan Paderewski has found General Joseph Pilsudski, the Polish military dictator, will not give up his authority in Poland at the present time. The two Polish leaders have had an interview which, it is indicated, was unsatisfactory. Paderewski came to Poland as the representative of 4,000,000 Poles from whom he has received plenary powers, he says. He claims to have power to make loans to the Polish government and also to be the representative at Paris of the Polish committee.

The fuel administration of Minnesota has sent a warning to consumers to get their coal and not to cancel their allotments. Judge J. F. McGee says in part that "the dealer cannot be expected to take the risk of carrying over anthracite coal into next season. That risk must rest upon the consumer. Anthracite can be furnished now in accordance with the allotments made to each community and dealer in the state. Where it is refused now, it will be diverted and if a long drawn out winter follows, the consumer must suffer the penalty because of his failure at this time to make adequate provision against it. Once an allotment is cancelled, that ends the matter for this season."

BRAINERD HIGH'S BASKETBALL PLANS

Brainerd Again Entering on Another Strenuous Season of Basketball

AITKIN HIGH HERE JAN. 11TH

Four Veterans in Local Lineup—Second Team Looks Good Too

Brainerd is just entering upon another one of those strenuous basketball seasons which have caused so much excitement in the past.

The first game of the season will be played this coming Saturday, January 11th, when the husky warriors of Aitkin high make their annual appearance on the local floor.

Brainerd is wonderfully fortunate in having in its lineup four veterans of last year's team. With the two midwinters of last year, Cunningham and Higbe, at forwards, the stalwart Arthur Reid at center, and the veterans of many a hard fought game, Henry Nelson and Henry Bakula as guards, there seems to be every reason to believe that Brainerd will have a team which will be a very dangerous contender for the district title.

To more fully round out the team, the high school is again fortunate in having such men as Thabes, Ebner, Warner and Shedd, who are fighting desperately to share the honors of first string men. In fact, the team will probably not be known until the last minute, so great is the rivalry.

Together with the last mentioned, Brainerd will be strongly represented, also, on the second team. Among the most worthy of mention are Tornstrom, Rosenberg, Engstrom, Mahlum, McKinley, Hagberg and Thoe.

The first team this year will not have the personal guidance of the veteran coach, C. H. Kinball. Until recently, he has been an instructor at Dunwoody Institute. With the demobilization of the students at that institution, he has accepted a position with the Fargo high. To fill his position, Byer, of N. D. University has been selected. Though this is his first year at Brainerd, yet he comes with an enthusiasm and willingness which will assure the big of a successful year in basketball.

In the first practice game of the season, the alumni was defeated by the score of 35-13. Lack of practice for the latter contributed to the one sided score.

Huns In The Blood

Enemies of your health enter your blood when you are constipated. They are the poisons created by fermenting food-waste and are as savage as any Hun. Carried by the blood to all parts of your body, they attack the organs and tissues and tax to the utmost the ability of your kidneys, lungs and skin pores to get rid of them.

When your blood is full of these poisons you are in no condition to fight off disease. The poisons have free access and the danger of influenza and pneumonia is overwhelming.

Protect yourself. Empty your bowels of food-waste. Your druggist has a pleasant-tasting new salt called SALINOS which is fully effective if taken in cold water. It will banish constipation, stop this seepage of poison into your blood and make you able to fight disease.

Get it today. Be safe! Take it first thing tomorrow morning.

At the Best Tomorrow

Jack Pickford's newest picture, "Sandy," will be presented at the Best theatre tomorrow. This is a story of life in Kentucky and it has to do with the fortunes of Sandy, a young Scotch immigrant and Ruth Nelson, a charming Blue Grass belle. The picture is based upon the successful novel of the same name by Alice Hegan Rice, the scenario having been written by Miss Edith M. Kennedy and the production directed by George Melford.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

Pine trees, Easter lilies and cathedral candles formed an attractive setting for the marriage of Miss Beatrice Eddy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Eddy, 916 Sixth street southeast, and Mr. Charles Harry Patek of Milwaukee, which was solemnized at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the First Congregational church. The flowers were effectively arranged against the greenery to form an altar before which the service was read by the Rev. George P. Merrill.

The ushers, Messrs. Jennings B. Frear of Madison, Clinton S. Reynolds of Milwaukee, Fred E. Stout of Brainerd and Harold J. Dane of St. Paul, led the bridal procession. Next came the bridesmaids, the Misses Charlotte Keyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Keyes, and Barbara Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hastings of Atchison, Kan., nieces of the bride. Miss Keyes was dressed in green satin and Miss Hastings wore blue satin. They both wore hats fashioned with tulle brims and satin crowns to match their gowns and carried bouquets of Ophelia roses.

Mrs. Jennings B. Frear of Madison, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She was dressed in pink satin and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses and white daisies. Little Eleanor Eddy, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Horace Eddy of Urbana, Ill., another niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dainty white net frock and carried a basket of pink roses.

The bride entered alone and was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Walter F. Wieland of Brainerd. Her gown was of white charmoise embroidered with pearls and fashioned with a panel train which fell from the shoulders. She wore a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley arranged in shower effect.

A wedding dinner for the relatives and members of the bridal party was given after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frear of Madison, Captain and Mrs. Horace Eddy and daughter Eleanor of Urbana, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hastings and daughter Barbara of Atchison, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Cohen of Brainerd.

SOMETHING NEW IN LYCEUM PROGRAM

Cambridge Players Are Unlike Other Entertainers.

The Cambridge Players, who will appear here soon, represent a new idea in Lyceum work, not only in the nature of the program and the manner of preparing it, but also in its method of presentation.

After coaching with Elias Day, the company gave a full year under his direction in selecting their material and preparing it for platform use. It is, therefore, wholly unlike any other offered by Lyceum companies.

The program was rehearsed almost daily for a year and given about 50 times in public before they began their regular Lyceum work. Last season the success of the company was unusual. It appeared before the best Lyceum audiences in America, from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and enthusiasm followed everywhere. Every Lyceum committee accords them the highest praise, a sample of the expressions being, "The most delighted audience that ever assembled in our opera house;" "We can book them for a return date at any time and crowd the house on two days' notice;" "No company ever gave such universal satisfaction."

Literary merit, as well as the best humor and dramatic art, are represented in the program.

The Cambridge Players will present "The Rivals" this winter.

At K. C. hall tomorrow night, under auspices of the Luther League of Swedish Lutheran Church.

U. S. HEALTH SERVICE ISSUES WARNING

Increase in All Respiratory Diseases After the Influenza Epidemic Probable.

Influenza Expected to Lurk for Months. How to Guard Against Pneumonia. Common Colds Highly Catching—Importance of Suitable Clothing—Could Save 100,000 Lives.

Washington, D. C.—With the subsidence of the epidemic of influenza the attention of health officers is directed to pneumonia, bronchitis and other diseases of the respiratory system which regularly cause a large number of deaths, especially during the winter season. According to Rupert Blue, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, these diseases will be especially prevalent this winter unless the people are particularly careful to obey health instructions.

"The present epidemic," said Surgeon General Blue, "has taught by bitter experience how readily a condition beginning apparently as a slight cold may go on to pneumonia and death. Although the worst of the epidemic is over, there will continue to be a large number of scattered cases, many of them mild and unrecognized, which will be danger spots to be guarded against." The Surgeon General likened the present situation to that after a great fire, saying, "No fire chief who understands his business stops playing the hose on the charred debris as soon as the flames and visible fire have disappeared. On the contrary, he continues the water for hours and even days, for he knows that there is danger of the fire rekindling from smoldering embers."

"Then you fear another outbreak of influenza?" he was asked. "Not necessarily another large epidemic," said the Surgeon General, "but unless the people learn to realize the seriousness of the danger they will be compelled to pay a heavy death toll from pneumonia and other respiratory diseases."

Common Colds Highly Catching.

"It is encouraging to observe that people are beginning to learn that ordinary coughs and colds are highly catching and are spread from person to person by means of droplets of germ laden mucus. Such droplets are sprayed into the air when careless or ignorant people cough or sneeze without covering their mouth and nose. It is also good to know that people have learned something about the value of fresh air. In summer, when people are largely out of doors, the respiratory diseases (coughs, colds, pneumonia, etc.) are infrequent; in the fall, as people begin to remain indoors, the respiratory diseases increase; in the winter, when people are prone to stay in badly ventilated, overheated rooms, the respiratory diseases become very prevalent."

Suitable Clothing Important.

"Still another factor in the production of colds, pneumonia and other respiratory diseases is carelessness or ignorance of the people regarding suitable clothing during the seasons when the weather suddenly changes, sitting in warm rooms too heavily dressed or, what is even more common, especially among women, dressing so lightly that windows are kept closed in order to be comfortably warm. This is a very injurious practice."

Could Save 100,000 Lives.

"I believe we could easily save one hundred thousand lives annually in the United States if all the people would adopt the system of fresh air living followed, for example, in tuberculosis sanatoria. There is nothing mysterious about it—no specific medicine, no vaccine. The important thing is right living, good food and plenty of fresh air."

Droplet Infection Explained in Pictures.

"The Bureau of Public Health, Treasury Department, has just issued a striking poster drawn by Beryman, the well-known Washington cartoonist. The poster exemplifies the modern method of health education. A few years ago, under similar circumstances, the health authorities would have issued an official dry but scientifically accurate bulletin teaching the role of droplet infection in the spread of respiratory diseases. The only ones who would have understood the bulletin would have been those who already knew all about the subject. The man in the street, the plain citizen and the many millions who toil for their living would have had no time and no desire to wade through the technical phraseology."

Copies of this poster can be obtained free of charge by writing to the Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

WHO PAYS THE FREIGHT?

Mail-order houses are operated by shrewd business men. They have observed that local merchants stay out of the newspapers directly after the holidays. That's their time to push business.

Every merchant should remember this: Mail order catalogs are not sent into communities where wide awake business men are advertising constantly. Any man at the head of a mail-order house will tell you it does not pay to send catalogs into sections where the home merchants advertise liberally and constantly.

The mail-order man knows the merchants have the edge on him, if the home man only will let it be known that—

1—The home merchant can sell as cheap or cheaper than the mail-order house.

2—That the home merchant pays the freight, that he delivers at once, and stands behind the goods with his personal guarantee.

There are many good reasons why every farmer and citizen should trade at home.

HELP FARMER BROTHERS

Farmers Mutual Insurance Companies of the state are being leagued together to help their farmer brothers in distress in the forest fire area of northern Minnesota.

It is the aim to assess, after a vote has been so taken at the annual meetings, each holder of insurance 75c per thousand to aid the farmers mutual insurance companies in the fire area.

This will mean a slight burden to the individual member, but he of tremendous benefit to the unfortunate brothers who through no fault of their own, have lost their all in the great conflagration and from the ashes of ruined homes look into the future without hope save for the faith which they have in that bond of sympathy and sense of obligation of the Brotherhood of Mutual Insurance, which will not fail them in their distress and greatest need.

Take the heaviest insured man in the Long Lake Mutual Insurance Co. It will cost him but $4 to aid his afflicted brothers.

IF YOU FORGOT YOU WERE MARRIED

The Little Falls Transcript says Transcript readers who wish to brush up on the important local events of the past year should be sure and secure a copy of the Transcript of Dec. 31. In that issue they "will publish these together with the marriage licenses issued during 1918 and the principal sporting events."

Didn't think a man needed brushing up on a marriage license if he got married in 1918. As there is always an element of uncertainty connected with the marriage game we anticipate that classing it with a sporting event may be all right, maybe.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST IN THE CITY

Flags of the city were at half-mast today, paying a last tribute to the departed Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States.

At the city hall, postoffice, Northern Pacific railway shops, court house and many homes the American colors were at half-mast.

Many Brainerd people had seen the president, had heard him in addresses and mourning was genuine for the man who at one time had lived in the neighboring Dakotas close to Minnesota.

DULUTH GROCERS WANT FOOD ADMINISTRATION TO CONTINUE ITS WORK

MIGHT BE MADE UNIVERSAL

Los Angeles Has Set Other Places Good Example in Getting Rid of Its Unsightly Billboards.

They still do things effectively in the golden West, where in other days they adopted the custom of shooting first and talking afterward.

In Los Angeles, where civic pride is more operative than linguistic, it was decreed that billboards were such an affront to the artistic sense that they should be removed from the public gaze. To decide was to act. Men equipped with instruments of demolition sallied forth on June 1 and began a work which since then has resulted in the removal of 840 garish billboards and has insulated them on a high altar of outraged taste. The job still is going on and the hope openly is expressed and nursed that before the good work is over "fully six miles of signs, objected to by the public, will have been eliminated."

Six miles of signs eliminated; think of it. Two full leagues of tooth paste, pink pills, lady's lingerie, chewing gum, garters, etc., snatched from the worried gaze of an aroused people and interned, sans appeal, sans hope. What a place Los Angeles must be!—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Open Spaces Important.

Good housing for the small community means much more than for the great city, because it is possible to have far better standards. And a small city has no excuse—even if a great one pretends to have—for areas in which grass cannot grow or gardens flourish because of smoke and gases. The surroundings of houses may be made attractive. Shrubs and flowers may take the place of expensive construction if good taste is used in their selection and location.

And one of the great features almost entirely neglected in smaller places is one of the most important. Houses may be so arranged as to leave free open spaces for the play of children. Many cities, to be sure, have parks or a park, but a city is all too likely to feel content with itself if it has one or two such places beautifully kept and well fitted to please the eye of grown-ups on a sedate Sunday afternoon walk. Far more important is it to have the houses in every small area of a few blocks so planned as to leave space for games and other public use.

Rats Cause Heavy Losses.

Losses from rats in cities are enormous. In 1908 the biological survey made a careful study of rat infestations in two cities, Washington and Baltimore, with the result that actual losses of produce and other property amounting annually to $400,000 and $700,000, respectively, were revealed. These sums are nearly in ratio to the populations. The Woman's Municipal league of Boston recently announced that losses from rats in that city amounted to $1,350,000 each year. Losses in Pittsburgh, Pa., have been estimated at over $1,000,000 a year.

Licorice in New Jersey.

It is possible that licorice, which now comes from the Mediterranean, may at no distant time be grown in New Jersey. Experiments are now under way with the imported plants.

Coal Output Is Reduced.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Celebration of the holidays caused a drop of 37 per cent in the production record for bituminous coal during the week of Dec. 28 below that of the previous week, according to figures made public by the fuel administration. The estimate for the current week places the bituminous production at 6,385,000 net tons, as against 10,131,000 for the week ended Dec. 21. Anthracite production was estimated at 1,289,000 net tons, compared with 1,839,000 the previous week.

COL. ROOSEVELT DIES SUDDENLY AT OYSTER BAY

Rheumatism Ends Life of Former President Without Warning at Early Morning Hour.

PASSES PEACEFULLY

Had Retired Night Before Feeling Quite Well—Went Home From New York Hospital Only Short Time Ago.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt died in his sleep at his home on Sagamore Hill.

The colonel suffered a severe attack of rheumatism and sciatica on New Year day, but none believed that his illness would likely prove fatal.

About 4 a. m. Mrs. Roosevelt, who was the only other member of the family at Oyster Bay, went to her husband's room and found that he had died during the night.

Mrs. Roosevelt telephoned to Colonel Emile Roosevelt, cousin of the former president, and he came to the Roosevelt home immediately. Telegrams were dispatched to the colonel's children, who were in other parts of the country. Two of the colonel's sons, Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Captain Kermit Roosevelt, are in service abroad.

Colonel Died in His Sleep.

The exact time of Roosevelt's death was 4:45 a. m., as nearly as can be determined. There was no one at his bedside at the time he passed away. A minute or two before his attendant, James Amos, noticed that the patient was breathing heavily in his sleep and went to call a nurse. When he returned with her, the former president was dead. Mrs. Roosevelt was immediately summoned.

Telegrams of condolence and sympathy began to pour in from all parts of the country as soon as news of Colonel Roosevelt's death became known.

Returned Home on Christmas.

The former president came to his home on Sagamore Hill from the Roosevelt hospital on Christmas day but a week later was stricken with a severe attack of rheumatism and sciatica, from which he had been suffering for some time. The rheumatism affected his right hand and it became much swollen.

Flags were placed at half mast in Oyster Bay.

The immediate cause of Colonel Roosevelt's death was pulmonary embolism, or lodgment in the lung of a clot from a broken vein, it was stated by one of the physicians.

Colonel Roosevelt was 60 years old, having been born in New York, Oct. 27, 1858. He was the 26th president of the United States, having succeeded to the presidency on the death of William McKinley, who was shot and killed at Buffalo, N. Y.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Both houses of congress adjourned today as a mark of respect after adopting resolutions of regret at the death of Colonel Roosevelt and providing for the appointment of committees to attend the funeral.

Ford Contests Election.

Washington, Jan. 7.—In a petition received by Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall and laid before the Senate, Henry Ford, democratic candidate for United States senator, defeated on the face of returns by Truman H. Newberry, Republican, gave notice of a contest of the seat and asked for a recount of the ballots. Excessive use of money in Newberry's campaign, intimidation of voters, improper rejection of ballots, "flagrant violation" of Michigan election laws were made by Mr. Ford.

PROBABLY STARTED BY GERMAN AGENTS

NO ONE SEEMS TO KNOW SOURCE OF RECENT PROPAGANDA AGAINST GREAT BRITAIN.

LITTLE INCIDENTS MAGNIFIED

Bill for Retirement and Pension of Government Employees Killed by "Fine Work" in Senate—Kincheol Versus Walsh.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Just why the propaganda against England was started no one can say. That it received an impetus from certain official quarters there seems to be no doubt, and it was believed that it was for the purpose of creating public opinion which would help to back up certain demands at the peace conference. There has been an impression that England's determination to maintain her naval supremacy will interfere to some extent with one of President Wilson's 14 points, that relating to freedom of the seas. Then again it is hinted that the propaganda was started for the purpose of preventing anything like an alliance between the United States and Great Britain. "Do we want an alliance with England?" was the way in which some of this propaganda was introduced. Then there was also the suspicion that it was a part of the German propaganda intended to create a division between the United States and Great Britain.

At all events any little thing that could be used for the purpose of promoting this propaganda was put forth. For instance, attention was brought sharply to the fact that Admiral Beatty, in command of the Grand fleet, in commending the British navy for what it had done during the war, omitted all mention of the part the Americans had taken on the seas, although a big squadron of American ships at that time formed a portion of his fleet. That and similar instances have been brought forward to cause irritation in this country against the British.

Once in a while a bill which nobody wants, but which everybody would have to vote for if a vote were reached, gets in a place of vantage in the senate. There then follows what has come to be known as "fine work" by the senate to defeat the bill, which is generally to prevent a vote upon it. The latest instance of this kind was a bill providing for the pension and retirement of government employees. Senator McKellar of Tennessee "held the bag" and stood sponsor for the bill. For two or three months he had it before the senate as "unfinished business," but he never seemed to be able to get it to a vote. For one cause or another it was put over, there was a lack of a quorum, there was important legislation brought forward, and finally the revenue bill pushed it into the scrapheap. "How well they know how not to do it," remarked Tom Patterson of Colorado when he was a member of the senate, referring to one or two measures which the leaders defeated, much as this bill has been, without ever having a roll call.

There has been criticism, or something like fleeting comment, upon the number of officers in uniform in Washington, but very little attention has been paid to any of these strictures until there appeared from the pen of Senator James Hamilton Lewis in a newspaper a very satirical article on the subject. Few men are more adept than Senator Lewis in handling words, and the manner in which he discussed the numerous military officers in Washington will no doubt have a tendency to decrease the display of army uniforms now that the war is over. General regret is expressed for those men, officers or soldiers, who desired an opportunity to get into the real active service abroad and could not go, but it has been known from the beginning of the war that thousands of men donned uniforms who were never expected to get outside of the United States. They are the men who have come in for sarcastic comments such as Senator Lewis recently uttered.

From admiration to disgust in two minutes; that is what happened to Congressman Kincheol's feelings for Congressman Walsh in the house recently. Kincheol was advocating something and Walsh was questioning the sense of it. "I have a great regard for the gentleman from Massachusetts," remarked Kincheol, and then went on to try to win Walsh over to his side. A couple of minutes later, after a sharp interchange of argument, "I cannot tell the gentleman anything," said Kincheol; "he knows too much now."

"I am willing to stand a test with the gentleman," replied Walsh. "I would not," Walsh asserted the Kentucky man, "contest anything with the narrow-minded gentleman." But after a day's reflection he had the words "narrow-minded" removed from the permanent record.

Made Presentable.

Constance had been visiting at the neighbors and came home accompanied by two of her little playmates. As she brought them in with her she made this remark to her mother: "I washed both their faces before I brought them over."

Do Something Better Than the Other Fellow---and ADVERTISE

Advertising cannot accomplish the impossible any more than barren ground can yield rich crop.

But how advertising does make things hum when the product and proposition are right, the men and methods above board, when there's an honest purpose and earnest effort from bundle boy to general manager to serve efficiency, to deal honestly, to sell good goods, to price fairly.

Oil up the machinery of your business, imbue your organization with the spirit of true service, make your business worthy of the good will, the confidence, the patronage of the people.

In this fertile field then sow the seed of advertising and it will bring forth abundant crops in increased business and augmented prestige.

Your store news in the Dispatch will be read in practically every home in Brainerd and vicinity every evening.

Smoke Wood for Haddock.

The historic woodworks at Tintern, England, in which Sir Francis Bacon had a share, are being used as a wood-turning factory, and the waste shavings are sent to Scotland to be used for smoking haddock, as the smoke from the locally grown hard wood has a peculiar sweetness which makes it of special value.

Gypsy Tribes.

In Poland the gypsy tribes are called Zingari; in Italy, Zingari; in Spain, Gitanos; in France, Bohemians; in Germany, Zigeuner. The Persians, it is stated, apply to them a name meaning "Black Indians." Their most ancient name is that of Sinte, which is supposed to be connected with Sind, the native name for the Indus.

DISTRICT COURT IN PROCEEDING TODAY

Case of Koochiching County vs Elder et al on Trial Today, First on Civil Call

THE GRAND JURY IS VERY BUSY

Preliminary Call Disposes of a Number of Cases, One Sentence on Criminal Call

In district court the first civil case called on the calendar was that of the County of Koochiching vs George A. Elder, Commercial Investment Co. of Duluth, John Nuveen & Co., Chicago, et al. It is a suit brought on change of venue from Koochiching county to Crow Wing county to recover on the sale of ditch bonds alleged to have been fraudulently made.

N. B. Arnold made the opening address to the jury, which is largely composed of farmers. Farmers of the jury are Frank A. Johnson, Olsen Skau, Ole Larson, Jesse R. Britton, Andrew Peterson, Lars Sampson, Jesse Pleart; the rest are S. E. Engbreitson, a business man; Henry Abrahamson, plumber, and C. L. Johnson and Charles Falkenberg of the railway shop, Charles O. Beck of the Mahlum Lumber Co.

Attorney F. E. Ebner of Brainerd, appearing with John H. Hill of Chicago, for John Nuveen & Co., Chicago bankers, objected to the language of the complaint and to the general charge of conspiracy alleged. He claimed that the first thirteen allegations of the complaint showed the entire bond transaction had been negotiated and done by Elder, that Nuveen & Co.'s action was entirely without fraud. He contended that a dismissal in a former case as to certain alleged co-conspirators, tended to absolve all complained of.

The jury had been excused while this phase of the case, being an effort of counsel to secure a dismissal of the case as it affected the Chicago bank, was argued.

Assisting N. B. Arnold of Duluth is M. E. Ryan, a Brainerd lawyer.

The grand jury has been very busy, but so far no indictments have been made public. It is presumed that cases charging infractions of liquor laws are under consideration. The preliminary call, in addition to disposing of cases as previously mentioned, resulted in striking off the calendar Johnston Land Co. vs Brainerd Brewing Co.

Defendant asked for leave to amend his answer in The Mantle Lamp Co. vs Fred Richter. In Max Greenberg et al vs The Flieger Co. defendant moved to dismiss. In Howard Spencer vs Gregory Koering there was notice of motion to dismiss the appeal for insufficiency of appeal.

At the roll call of the grand jury of the district court all were present except A. K. Lukens, Fred T. Lincoln, E. M. Prindle, Wm. C. Deering, L. J. Clouse, H. V. Flansburg who were excused by order of Judge W. S. McClenahan. Fred J. Reid was appointed foreman. The grand jury was sworn and charged by the court and retired in charge of officer W. W. Winter.

Grand Jurors C. G. Osterlund and George W. Wetherbee came in and presented satisfactory excuse for being late. Mr. Osterlund exercised his right of exemption as a registered pharmacist and was excused. Mr. Wetherbee was sworn as a grand juror and charged by the court.

In the case of Grace Canfield, charged with assault and battery, defendant was before the court Tuesday and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The sentence was suspended pending good behavior and providing she leave the county and stay away.

C. C. Bowen, well known painter of this city and member of the firm of Congdon & Bowen, has perfected a life saving device for aviators and submitted it to the government for examination and use.

It can be carried within the aeroplane and is ready for immediate use, thus offering aviator and attendant some chance for escape when the machine was crippled or out of control or in flames and it became necessary to jump or smash to the ground with the wreckage.

HARRY HEDLUND SAW PRESIDENT IN FRANCE

Writes His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hedlund, 1410 Pine Street Southeast

ALL PARIS WENT SIMPLY WILD

Parades Lasted Two Days, Banners Carried Read "Vive Wilson."

Soldiers Glad to see Pres.

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hedlund of 1410 Southeast Pine street, Pte. Harry Hedlund describes scenes in Paris at the time of President Wilson's first entry and the wonderful reception accorded him by France and American soldiers:

Paris, Dec. 16, 1918.

Dear Sister:

Just a line to let you know that I am well, and hope you are the same.

President Wilson arrived in Paris last Saturday 14th, and I had the pleasure of seeing him in the parade from the train to his quarters. The people were simply wild. It took me a couple of hours to get out of the crowd after the parade had passed. All day Saturday and Sunday the streets were packed, and one bunch after another starting parades all yelling "Wilson," and carrying banners reading "Vive Wilson." There are many electric signs on the streets reading "Wilson." A few of us went to town Sunday and saw the American place headquarters, and the streets there were packed waiting for a chance to see the president if he should show up. I was talking to an American yesterday who had been to church where Wilson was and he told me the church was packed and all along the street people were yelling "Wilson." It makes us feel good to see the way these people praise our president. All the American soldiers had one part of the boulevard to see the parade from, and the president sure saw a lot of us there and we were all more than pleased to see him.

I went to the Notre Dame Sunday with my Bud. That is a very old and ancient Catholic church and it was wonderful, and the music from their pipe organ was great. It seems queer to me not to see any snow this time of the year, and especially to be able to be around without an overcoat, the weather is like springtime. I hope to take a trip to some of the battlefields very soon to see what it looks like. Many of the boys have some very interesting souvenirs that they have gotten from the battle fields.

I met a fellow Saturday who was from Little Falls. He was in the Polish army. He told me he could not get into the American army so he enlisted in the Polish army, but he says he is very anxious to get back home again. I knew I had seen that face before so I asked him if he wasn't from the states. I only had a few moments to talk with him while waiting for a subway.

I like my work very much and am sure the time will pass quickly until the day when I will be home again.

Love,

HARRY.

P. hospital, Sisters of St. Joseph's hospital, hotels and Elks lodge. In fact the work of the committee and the efficiency of the hospital was made possible by the combined co-operation of the doctors, private individuals, merchants and even policemen.

Bulls, plain to best.....	6.50@12.50
Poor to fancy calves.....	6.75@15.75
Western range steers.....	10.00@18.00

These newspaper quotations represent live cattle prices in Chicago on December 30th, 1918.

The list shows price ranges on nine general classified groups with a spread of $13.85 per cwt.—the lowest at $6.50, and the highest at $20.35.

Why this variation in price?

Because the meat from different animals varies greatly in quality and weight.

Although the quotations shown are in nine divisions, Swift & Company grades cattle into 34 general classes, and each class into a variety of weights and qualities.

As a result of these differences in cattle prices, (due to differences in weights and meat qualities), there is a range of 15 cents in Swift & Company's selling prices of beef carcasses.

These facts explain:

- 1—Why retail prices vary in different stores.
- 2—Why it would be difficult to regulate prices of cattle or beef.
- 3—Why it requires experts to judge cattle and to sell meat, so as to yield the profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound—a profit too small to affect prices.

FAVORS LEAGUE IF NOT TOO STRONG

SENATE WOULD INDORSE UNION OF NATIONS TO USE MORAL SUASION AGAINST WAR.

MORE TALK OF CANDIDATES

Queer but Persistent Idea That Nominations Taken From Senate Is Handicapped—Weeks Scores on Fletcher Concerning Ship Purchase Bill.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—No other one subject to come before the peace conference has caused as much agitation and discussion in this country as the league of nations. There is yet a very indefinite idea as to how the league will be formed and what will be its functions, but the impression seems to be that it will not be much more than one of moral suasion and that it will have no extraordinary powers to enforce peace. So hostile are the people generally to war that they will indorse almost any action that tends to prevent war, but there is reason to believe that many of the statesmen who have to handle the subject will oppose anything like a substantial league of nations, such as a super-government which will control all governments. There has been enough open and private discussion in the senate to indicate that a treaty of peace giving a league of nations any great power cannot be ratified. But a league which is to use its moral force, its earnest efforts, its persuasive powers to prevent war is almost sure to receive a hearty indorsement.

As war activities cease politics comes to the front. There is constant discussion of presidential possibilities and leading politicians sometimes express their opinions, and a great many men are casting about for suitable candidates to go before the next national convention. It is rather curious to observe in connection with politics how strong tradition and precedent are with most political writers. Every little while it is pointed out that the only successful candidate for president ever taken from the senate was Benjamin Harrison, although at the same time mention is made of James A. Garfield. As a matter of fact, Harrison was not taken from the senate. He had been out of the senate two years when he became president. Garfield never entered the senate, but was still serving in the house, although he had been elected as senator from Ohio. But some way an impression prevails that there is a hoodoo upon senatorial candidates, and possibly that is one reason why many men look elsewhere for a Republican candidate in 1920, although there is in the senate such material as Lodge of Massachusetts, Wadsworth of New York, Knox of Pennsylvania, Harding of Ohio, Kellogg of Minnesota, Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California, any of whom might be called available if their reputations had been made anywhere outside of the senate.

There is always more or less harking back to something that happened long ago and there are men who cannot refrain from reminding fellow-members of congress when they were right and some other people were wrong. Such was the case when Senator Fletcher of Florida was making a speech on shipping conditions and criticized Republicans for defeating the first ship-purchase bill, a measure that never was able to command a majority in the senate. But always there is somebody to make a reply. Senator Weeks of Massachusetts insisted that one reason why that bill was defeated was that its sponsors would not accept an amendment providing that the government should not purchase the German ships interned in American harbors. "We obtained the German ships somewhat later," remarked Senator Weeks, with something like a wry smile on his face, "and at a lower price than it was then the purpose to pay for them."

One day while there was a discussion over what this section or that section had obtained Senator Smith of Georgia remarked: "An effort has been made to cause the impression that many offices were given to the South by the administration. My state failed in this respect better under President Taft than it has under President Wilson."

"The same claim is made by some other Democratic states," interjected Senator King of Utah. Senator Smith went on to say that a Supreme court justice and an interstate commerce commissioner were selected by President Taft from Georgia, and when those men died the places went to Massachusetts.

Photographers are making money out of the war these days. It is impossible to go around anywhere in the neighborhood of government bureaus and departments without seeing a number of people grouped on the steps or against the buildings, having their pictures taken. There are, or were, 60,000 war workers in Washington, and probably 90 per cent of them will have been photographed before they leave the government service.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

A Single Remedy Often Cures Many Diseases

By VALENTINE MOTT, M. D.

It is almost impossible to give a list of the endless diseases that follow indigestion. Perhaps a whole column in this newspaper would be required to print them all. You eat to keep alive—to supply blood and flesh and bone and muscle and brain. It is easy to see that if your food is not digested and taken up by the delicate organs and distributed where it is needed, a disease of some sort is sure to come. Dyspepsia is a common symptom, and so are liver complaint, loss of flesh, nervousness, bad memory, dizziness, sleeplessness, no appetite. Many times, when neglected, indigestion results in coughs, throat diseases, catarrh, bronchitis and even more dangerous things. And all these disorders arise because the food is not properly digested in the stomach. It is plain even to a child that relief and cure are to be had only by setting up a healthy condition in the stomach. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., many years ago combined a number of vegetable growths into a temperance remedy for indigestion, and called it Golden Medical Discovery. It is probably the most efficacious discovery ever made in medicine, for the list of people all over the world who have had their countless ills overcome by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes an amazing total of thousands.

I know of no advice better than this: Begin a home treatment today with this good vegetable medicine. It will show you better than I can tell you what it will do. When taking Golden Medical Discovery, you can rest assured of one very important thing—it contains neither alcohol nor opium. There is nothing in it but standard roots and herbs that possess curative properties of a high order. A safe medicine is the only kind you can afford to take.

WILSON COMING HOME SOON

May Return to Europe After Present Congress Adjourns.

Paris, Jan. 7.—President Wilson will return to the United States to attend the closing sessions of the present Congress, according to present plans, and will come back to France for the later sittings of the peace congress.

The President will make several addresses to Congress.

American Wounded Mutilated.

With the Allied Army of the Dvina, Jan. 7.—Further evidence that the Bolsheviks are mutilating Allied wounded and dead came to headquarters in a report from Lieutenant Colonel Corbier, who was in command of American forces in the vicinity of Shenkursk. Americans were the victims, according to the report. A patrol of 60 American soldiers and two officers was surprised by a force of about 700 Bolsheviks. Seven Americans were killed and seven others were missing after the fight.

KAISER'S SON GETS A JOB

Prince August Wilhelm to Work for Automobile Company.

Copenhagen, Jan. 7.—Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the former Kaiser, has obtained a job with the Benz Automobile company, according to a Berlin dispatch.

August Wilhelm was reported to have been wounded in December, 1914, when the French shelled his motor-car near Rheims. That, so far as records show, is his chief claim to fame. The dispatch failed to mention what kind of a job he had taken.

Hopes to Check Bolshevism.

Paris, Jan. 7.—Announcement of the appointment of Herbert C. Hoover to be director general of the inter-Allied organization to feed Allied, neutral and enemy peoples is considered in high American circles here as indicating a program far more important than arranging for supplies of food and shipping. Mr. Hoover's statement, that food would "banish the specter of Bolshevism," gives evidence of one of the larger purposes of the relief plans.

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism. Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL Hamlet Oil Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Liniment

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 30 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

CAPITAL VOICES SINCERE REGRET

Washington Gives Solemn Expression of Sorrow at Death of Roosevelt.

MANY TRIBUTES GIVEN

Flags On Every Government Building Throughout the United States, at Army Camps and On Naval Vessels at Half Mast.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Washington, representing the nation at large, gave solemn and earnest expression to the country's regret at the death of Theodore Roosevelt and its admiration for his character and achievements.

Flags on every government building throughout the United States and at every army post and on every naval vessel were ordered placed at half mast. The Senate and House adjourned after eulogies of the former president had been delivered by both Republicans and Democrats, and committees had been appointed to attend his funeral and the Supreme court took unprecedented action in adjourning without the transaction of any business.

News Cabled to Wilson.
Formal tributes were paid Colonel Roosevelt by government officials, members of Congress and cabinet officers. President Wilson was cabled the news by the executive officers of the White House. Many touching statements of personal grief were made by men and women who had been associated closely with the former president during his life in Washington, particularly the seven years of his residence in the White House and members of the diplomatic corps expressed the admiration which the people in foreign lands held for him.

The bust of Colonel Roosevelt in the Senate corridor was draped in crepe. The National Press club, where the former president frequently had been a guest and speaker, postponed its annual inauguration of officers and the frolic to follow.

Political effects of Colonel Roosevelt's death began to be discussed, even while the country mourned one of the leading figures in American life. Inasmuch as Colonel Roosevelt had been mentioned prominently as a possible presidential nominee in 1920, it was inevitable that his passing should cause speculation as to other candidates.

SUPREME COURT ADJOURNS

Attorney General Announces Death of Colonel Roosevelt.

Washington, Jan. 7.—The supreme court adjourned immediately upon the announcement of Colonel Roosevelt's death by Attorney General Gregory, who, in making the motion, said:

"It is with great regret and sadness that I announce the death of Theodore Roosevelt. He was formerly president of the United States as well as a citizen, soldier and statesman of the United States."

Chief Justice White replied: "The court sorrows to learn of the death of this great and conspicuous son of the republic, whose service the country has lost and it is glad to give this mark of respect by granting the motion of the attorney general."

ASSAILANT VOICES REGRET

Man Who Shot Roosevelt at Milwaukee Told of Death.

Waupun, Wis., Jan. 7.—"I am sorry to learn of his death. He was a great American. His loss will be a great one for the country."

This expression over the death of Colonel Roosevelt came, not from an ordinary citizen, but from John Schrank, the man who shot him while he was in Milwaukee in the fall of 1912.

Schrank is confined in the hospital for the criminal insane here.

BIG TURNOUT AT TURIN

President Wilson Winds Up His Visit to Italy.

Party Is Welcomed by Gathering of More Than 1,000 Mayors of Cities and Towns.

Turin, Italy, Jan. 7.—President Wilson wound up his visit to Italy, by a visit to Turin, which gave him another tumultuous welcome, quite as hearty as the greetings he received at Genoa and Milan. Altogether, however, the greeting was more orderly.

Again, thousands of persons flocked the streets and rent the air with shouts of "Viva Wilson, God of Peace," and similar expressions. After a round of receptions which included the freedom of the city being conferred upon him, a luncheon at which the Cardinal was present and where the President made a speech and a visit to the University, where an honorary degree was conferred upon him, President Wilson and his party departed for Paris, where they are due to arrive tomorrow morning.

The most picturesque feature of President Wilson's visit here was the gathering of more than a thousand mayors of cities and towns in Piedmont to greet him. They came from the hills, the fields and the valleys and virtually every crossroad community was represented as well as the cities. Each of the mayors wore a sash of the national colors. They represented all walks of life and every condition of society.

TO VISIT UNITED STATES

President Poincare of France May Come Next Summer.

Paris, Jan. 7.—President Poincare will probably visit the United States late in June or early in July. This announcement was made by the president himself.

When it was suggested that the greatest reception ever accorded a foreign ruler was awaiting him, the president said:

"I must return President Wilson's visit. I am not looking for the honors of a reception. I simply wish to thank America and Americans for what they have done for the cause of Liberty and France."

BY ROBERT J. BENDER.
(Staff Correspondent, United Press)

Paris, Jan. 7.—Back in Paris today President Wilson plunged immediately into the final preliminaries which precede the formal peace deliberations. The president returned from Italy armed with the obvious support of the common people of that country. The joint conference of the Americans, British, Italians and French delegations are expected to get under way early next week.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Jan. 7.—Government ownership of railroads, the railroads to be leased to private operating companies, was advocated today by Senator Cummings of Iowa, republican, who will be chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee after March 4th. As Cummings outlined his plan to the United Press it provides, first, for government ownership, second, leasing of roads under strict terms to private concerns; third the maintenance of a dozen or so competing lines to operate with unified terminals; fourth, a cabinet officer or government administrator or possibly a small board, and fifth, the issue of capital stock to cover equipment.

Fierce Fighting in Streets Throughout City

(By United Press)

Munich, Jan. 7.—Complete anarchy reigns in Berlin according to telephone messages today. Civil war has broken out between the Spartacus group and the government faction. Thousands of workers are fighting in the streets.

The rattle of machine guns can be heard throughout the city. The Sparticans have barricaded themselves in many of the public buildings and are reported to hold all the banks. Later telephone messages said the government forces are planning to storm the police station. Karl Liebknecht is reported personally leading the Sparticans. Hundreds are fleeing from the city. Copenhagen dispatches said women are supporters of both factions are participating in street fighting in Berlin.

Secret Diplomacy Thing of the Past

BY FRED S. FERGUSON.
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, Jan. 7.—The death of secret diplomacy is expected to be sounded when the formal peace deliberations of the associated powers open next week. The feeling was growing among officials today that these sessions which probably will start at Versailles January 13th or 14th, should be open to the press of the world. Inasmuch as the allied nations have agreed that secret diplomacy must be abolished, it was felt the American attitude that this is the time to put the principle into effect should receive ready endorsement by other delegations. The sessions are likely to be more or less formal, but they are expected to be symbolic of the new era of open diplomacy and the abolition of secret treaties. The first subject, of course, will be the discussion of the extension of the armistice. This is, however, a strictly military matter. The next subject, probably, will be the league of nations.

RUSS GENERAL SLAIN

Brusilov, Former Commander-in-Chief, Killed at Moscow.

General Kuropatkin Also Murdered, According to Reports Reaching Stockholm.

Stockholm, Jan. 7.—General Brusilov, former commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has been killed at Moscow, according to dispatches received here.

A dispatch from Bergen stated that General Kuropatkin, who commanded the Russian armies in the Russo-Japanese war, had been murdered. Bolsheviks deny responsibility for his death, the dispatches add.

Maxim Gorky, the Russian author and revolutionist, has been elected a member of the Petrograd soviet, according to Russian advices.

France Opposes Russ Campaign.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Officials returning from France and who have been in intimate contact with French opinion, state that the sentiment of the nation is opposed to intervention in Russia, which it conceives as meaning a new war.

French financial interests, especially the large capitalists, on the other hand, desire Allied intervention in Russia on a large scale, but are fearful that popular hostility on the part of the masses to the proposal if pushed might prevent even limited intervention, and are inclined to take an opportunist view of the situation in Russia.

It is the opinion of these authorities that the Allied nations everywhere find popular disapproval of any project contemplating the dispatch of large forces to Russia, and that the utmost the Allies will be able to plan and execute is the complete dissolution of the bolshevik, using in addition to their navies and small land contingents native and anti-bolshevik troops.

PAYS-RESPECT TO COLONEL

Stranded Transport Places Its Flag at Half Mast.

Fire Island, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Flags on the United States transport Northern Pacific, still stranded on a sandbar off Fire Island light, were lowered to half mast out of respect to Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. The cruiser Columbia and a flotilla of salvage tugs standing off shore also brought their flags fluttering down.

The tugs, which failed at high tide to pull the Northern Pacific far out of her sandy bed, are, nevertheless, pulling away at her, lest she settled back with the incoming tide.

Mission's Purpose Will Be to Sell Supplies at Cost Prices to Inhabitants.

Warsaw, Jan. 7.—The American food commission for Poland arrived in Warsaw and established offices and living rooms in the famous Blue palace, above the portals of which the Stars and Stripes now float.

The civilian head of the mission, Dr. Vernon C. Kellogg, former director of the Commission for the Relief of Belgium, expressed satisfaction with the mission's reception, which had been enthusiastic from the very borders of Galicia Poland.

The mission, which is to sell supplies at cost prices, has been requested to import at once sufficient quantities of food, shoes, clothing and medicine to send down the extravagantly high prices which now are asked in the local markets.

Roosevelt Obsequies To Be Held at Oyster Bay Church.

Oyster Bay, Jan. 7.—The hour for the Roosevelt funeral is officially announced for 12:45 p. m. Wednesday at Christ Episcopal church here.

Two services will be held, one at Sagamore Hill, the other at Christ's church here, which the Roosevelts have for years attended. Rev. George Talmage, rector, is expected to officiate.

Colonel Roosevelt will be buried at Young's Memorial cemetery, Oyster Bay, in a plot selected by the colonel and his wife shortly after he left the White House.

PROMPT ACTION WILL BE SOUGHT

House Committee Approves Request of President Wilson for Relief Funds.

VOTE IS VERY CLOSE

Bill Will Be Presented to House by Chairman Sherley — Provides $100,000,000 to Feed Starving Peoples in Europe.

Washington, Jan. 7.—By a vote described as "very close" the House appropriations committee approved the request of President Wilson that Congress appropriate $100,000,000 for relief work in Europe, outside of Germany.

The bill, as finally agreed upon, will be reported to the House and Chairman Sherley said he would seek prompt action.

Opposition to the President's proposal was not on party lines. Democrats as well as Republicans voicing disapproval. Only 14 of the 21 members of the committee were present and it was said one of these abstained from voting. No announcement of the vote was made, but it was understood that it was seven to six, with Chairman Sherley casting the deciding ballot.

Some members were said to have protested that a comprehensive plan for the administration of the relief should have been presented to the committee and insisted that definite information should have been given as to the amount of contributions to be made by Allied countries. They also were understood to have expressed doubt whether the country, in view of heavy war taxes and another loan, next spring, would approve of the direct gift of any part of the money, or be able to sustain added financial burdens.

J., and Julia Emory of Baltimore, were given $10 or 10 days, and Alice Paul, chairman of the party, Mrs. Lawrence Lewis of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Annie Arnett of Wilmington, Del., were fined $5 each or five days in jail.

POLISH LEADERS DISAGREE

Paderewski and Pilsudski Cannot Come to Terms.

Warsaw, Jan. 7.—Ignace Jan Paderewski has found General Joseph Pilsudski, the Polish military dictator, will not give up his authority in Poland at the present time. The two Polish leaders have had an interview which, it is indicated, was unsatisfactory. Paderewski came to Poland as the representative of 4,000,000 Poles from whom he has received plenary powers, he says. He claims to have power to make loans to the Polish government and also to be the representative at Paris of the Polish committee.

The fuel administration of Minnesota has sent a warning to consumers to get their coal and not to cancel their allotments. Judge J. P. McGee says in part that "the dealer cannot be expected to take the risk of carrying over anthracite coal into next season. That risk must rest upon the consumer. Anthracite can be furnished now in accordance with the allotments made to each community and dealer in the state. Where it is refused now, it will be diverted and if a long drawn out winter follows, the consumer must suffer the penalty because of his failure at this time to make adequate provision against it. Once an allotment is cancelled, that ends the matter for this season."

BRAINERD HIGH'S BASKETBALL PLANS

Brainerd Again Entering on Another Strenuous Season of Basketball

AITKIN HIGH HERE JAN'Y. 11TH

Four Veterans in Local Lineup—Second Team Looks Good Too

Brainerd is just entering upon another one of those strenuous basketball seasons which have caused so much excitement in the past.

The first game of the season will be played this coming Saturday, January 11th, when the husky warriors of Aitkin high make their annual appearance on the local floor.

Brainerd is wonderfully fortunate in having in its lineup four veterans of last year's team. With the two midwinters of last year, Cunningham and Higbe, at forwards, the stalwart Arthur Reid at center, and the veterans of many a hard fought game, Henry Nelson and Henry Bakula as guards, there seems to be every reason to believe that Brainerd will have a team which will be a very dangerous contender for the district title.

To more fully round out the team, the high school is again fortunate in having such men as Thabes, Elmer, Warner and Sheffo, who are fighting desperately to share the honors of first string men. In fact, the team will probably not be known until the last minute, so great is the rivalry.

Together with the last mentioned, Brainerd will be strongly represented, also, on the second team. Among the most worthy of mention are Tornstrom, Rosenburg, Engstrom, Mahlum, McKinley, Hagberg and Thoe.

The first team this year will not have the personal guidance of the veteran coach, C. H. Kimball. Until recently, he has been an instructor at Dunwoody Institute. With the demobilization of the students at that institution, he has accepted a position with the Fargo high. To fill his position, Byer, of N. D. University has been selected. Though this is his first year at Brainerd, yet he comes with an enthusiasm and willingness which will assure the big of a successful year in basketball.

In the first practice game of the season, the alumni was defeated by the score of 35-13. Lack of practice for the latter contributed to the one sided score.

Huns In The Blood

Enemies of your health enter your blood when you are constipated. They are the poisons created by fermenting food-waste and are as savage as any Hun. Carried by the blood to all parts of your body, they attack the organs and tissues and tax to the utmost the ability of your kidneys, lungs and skin pores to get rid of them.

When your blood is full of these poisons you are in no condition to fight off disease. The mounds have free access and the danger of influenza and pneumonia is overwhelming.

Protect yourself. Empty your bowels of food-waste. Your druggist has a pleasant-tasting new salt called SALINOS which is fully effective if taken in cold water. It will banish constipation, stop this seepage of poison into your blood and make you able to fight disease.

Get it today. Be safe! Take it first thing tomorrow morning.

At the Best Tomorrow

Jack Pickford's newest picture, "Sandy," will be presented at the Best theatre tomorrow. This is a story of life in Kentucky and it has to do with the fortunes of Sandy, a young Scotch immigrant and Ruth Nelson, a charming Blue Grass belle. The picture is based upon the successful novel of the same name by Alice Hegan Rice, the scenario having been written by Miss Edith M. Kennedy and the production directed by George Melford.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent cathartics, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

MISS BEATRICE EDDY BRIDE OF C. M. PATEK

(Minneapolis Tribune)

Pine trees, Easter lilies and cathedral candles formed an attractive setting for the marriage of Miss Beatrice Eddy, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. T. Eddy, 916 Sixth street southeast, and Mr. Charles Harry Patek of Milwaukee, which was solemnized at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the First Congregational church. The flowers were effectively arranged against the greenery to form an altar before which the service was read by the Rev. George P. Merrill.

The ushers, Messrs. Jennings B. Frear of Madison, Clinton S. Reynolds of Milwaukee, and E. E. Stout of Brainerd and Harold J. Lane of St. Paul, led the bridal procession. Next came the bridesmaids, the Misses Charlotte Keyes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Keyes, and Barbara Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hastings of Atchison, Kan., nieces of the bride. Miss Keyes was dressed in green satin and Miss Hastings wore blue satin. They both wore hats fashioned with tulle brims and satin crowns to match their gowns and carried bouquets of Ophelia roses.

Mrs. Jennings B. Frear of Madison, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She was dressed in pink satin and carried a bouquet of Killarney roses and white daisies. Little Eleanor Eddy, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Horace Eddy of Urbana, Ill., another niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a dainty white net frock and carried a basket of pink roses.

The bride entered alone and was met at the altar by the bridegroom and his best man, Mr. Walter P. Wieland of Brainerd. Her gown was of white charmeuse embroidered with pearls and fashioned with a panel train which fell from the shoulders. She wore a tulle veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley arranged in shower effect.

A wedding dinner for the relatives and members of the bridal party was given after the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Frear of Madison, Captain and Mrs. Horace Eddy of Urbana, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Clive Hastings and daughter Barbara of Atchison, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. H. I. Cohen of Brainerd.

SOMETHING NEW IN LYCEUM PROGRAM

Cambridge Players Are Unlike Other Entertainers.

The Cambridge Players, who will appear here soon, represent a new idea in Lyceum work, not only in the nature of the program and the manner of preparing it, but also in its method of presentation.

After coaching with Elias Day, the company gave a full year under his direction in selecting their material and preparing it for platform use. It is, therefore, wholly unlike any other offered by Lyceum companies.

The program was rehearsed almost daily for a year and given about 50 times in public before they began their regular Lyceum work. Last season the success of the company was unusual. It appeared before the best Lyceum audiences in America, from coast to coast and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and enthusiasm followed everywhere. Every Lyceum committee accords them the highest praise, a sample of the expressions being, "The most delighted audience that ever assembled in our opera house;" "We can book them for a return date at any time and crowd the house on two days' notice;" "No company ever gave such universal satisfaction."

Literary merit, as well as the best humor and dramatic art, are represented in the program.

The Cambridge Players will present "The Rivals" this winter.

At K. C. hall tomorrow night, under auspices of the Luther League of Swedish Lutheran Church.

U. S. HEALTH SERVICE ISSUES WARNING

Increase in All Respiratory Diseases After the Influenza Epidemic Probable.

Influenza Expected to Lurk for Months. How to Guard Against Pneumonia. Common Colds Highly Catching—Importance of Suitable Clothing—Could Save 100,000 Lives.

Washington, D. C.—With the subsidence of the epidemic of influenza the attention of health officers is directed to pneumonia, bronchitis and other diseases of the respiratory system which regularly cause a large number of deaths, especially during the winter season. According to Rupert Blue, Surgeon General of the United States Public Health Service, these diseases will be especially prevalent this winter unless the people are particularly careful to obey health instructions.

"The present epidemic," said Surgeon General Blue, "has taught by bitter experience how readily a condition beginning apparently as a slight cold may go on to pneumonia and death. Although the worst of the epidemic is over, there will continue to be a large number of scattered cases, many of them mild and unrecognized, which will be danger spots to be guarded against." The Surgeon General likened the present situation to that after a great fire, saying, "No fire chief who understands his business stops playing the hose on the charred debris as soon as the flames and visible fire have disappeared. On the contrary, he continues the water for hours and even days, for he knows that there is danger of the fire rekindling from smoldering embers."

"Then you fear another outbreak of influenza?" he was asked. "Not necessarily another large epidemic," said the Surgeon General, "but unless the people learn to realize the seriousness of the danger they will be compelled to pay a heavy death toll from pneumonia and other respiratory diseases."

Common Colds Highly Catching.

"It is encouraging to observe that people are beginning to learn that ordinary coughs and colds are highly catching and are spread from person to person by means of droplets of germ laden mucus. Such droplets are sprayed into the air when careless or ignorant people cough or sneeze without covering their mouth and nose. It is also good to know that people have learned something about the value of fresh air. In summer, when people are largely out of doors, the respiratory diseases (coughs, colds, pneumonia, etc.) are infrequent; in the fall, as people begin to remain indoors, the respiratory diseases increase; in the winter, when people are prone to stay in badly ventilated, overheated rooms, the respiratory diseases become very prevalent."

Suitable Clothing Important.

"Still another factor in the production of colds, pneumonia and other respiratory diseases is carelessness or ignorance of the people regarding suitable clothing during the seasons when the weather suddenly changes, sitting in warm rooms too heavily dressed or, what is even more common, especially among women, dressing so lightly that windows are kept closed in order to be comfortably warm. This is a very injurious practice."

Could Save 100,000 Lives.

"I believe we could easily save one hundred thousand lives annually in the United States if all the people would adopt the system of fresh air living followed, for example, in tuberculosis sanatoria. There is nothing mysterious about it—no specific medicine, no vaccine. The important thing is right living, good food and plenty of fresh air."

Droplet Infection Explained in Pictures.

"The Bureau of Public Health, Treasury Department, has just issued a striking poster drawn by Berryman, the well-known Washington cartoonist. The poster exemplifies the modern method of health education. A few years ago, under similar circumstances, the health authorities would have issued an official dry but scientifically accurate bulletin teaching the role of droplet infection in the spread of respiratory diseases. The only ones who would have understood the bulletin would have been those who already knew all about the subject. The man in the street, the plain citizen and the many millions who toil for their living would have had no time and no desire to wade through the technical phraseology."

COLDS, INFLUENZA, PNEUMONIA, AND TUBERCULOSIS ARE SPREAD THIS WAY

Copies of this poster can be obtained free of charge by writing to the Surgeon General, U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C.

WHO PAYS THE FREIGHT?

Mail-order houses are operated by shrewd business men. They have observed that local merchants stay out of the newspapers directly after the holidays. That's their time to push business.

Every merchant should remember this: Mail order catalogs are not sent into communities where wide awake business men are advertising constantly. Any man at the head of a mail-order house will tell you it does not pay to send catalogs into sections where the home merchants advertise liberally and constantly.

The mail-order man knows the merchants have the edge on him, if the home man only will let it be known that—

1. The home merchant can sell as cheap or cheaper than the mail-order house.

2. That the home merchant pays the freight, that he delivers at once, and stands behind the goods with his personal guarantee.

There are many good reasons why every farmer and citizen should trade at home.

HELP FARMER BROTHERS

Farmers Mutual Insurance Companies of the state are being leagued together to help their farmer brothers in distress in the forest fire area of northern Minnesota.

It is the aim to assess, after a vote has been so taken at the annual meetings, each holder of insurance 75c per thousand to aid the farmers mutual insurance companies in the fire area.

This will mean a slight burden to the individual member, but he of tremendous benefit to the unfortunate brothers who through no fault of their own, have lost their all in the great conflagration and from the ashes of ruined homes look into the future without hope save for the faith which they have in that bond of sympathy and sense of obligation of the Brotherhood of Mutual Insurance, which will not fail them in their distress and greatest need.

Take the heaviest insured man in the Long Lake Mutual Insurance Co. It will cost him but $4 to aid his afflicted brothers.

IF YOU FORGOT YOU WERE MARRIED

The Little Falls Transcript says Transcript readers who wish to brush up on the important local events of the past year should be sure and secure a copy of the Transcript of Dec. 31. In that issue they "will publish these together with the marriage licenses issued during 1918 and the principal sporting events."

Didn't think a man needed brushing up on a marriage license if he got married in 1918. As there is always an element of uncertainty connected with the marriage game we anticipate that classing it with a sporting event may be all right, maybe.

FLAGS AT HALF MAST IN THE CITY

Flags of the city were at half-mast today, paying a last tribute to the departed Col. Theodore Roosevelt, former president of the United States.

At the city hall, postoffice, Northern Pacific railway shops, court house and many homes the American colors were at half-mast.

Many Brainerd people had seen the president, had heard him in addresses and mourning was genuine for the man who at one time had lived in the neighboring Dakotas close to Minnesota.

DULUTH GROCERS WANT FOOD ADMINISTRATION TO CONTINUE ITS WORK

It was also voted at the December meeting last week Wednesday that many regulations, including 30 day credit limit and one daily delivery over one route, should remain in force.

MIGHT BE MADE UNIVERSAL

Los Angeles Has Set Other Places Good Example in Getting Rid of Its Unsightly Billboards.

They still do things effectively in the golden West, where in other days they adopted the custom of shooting first and talking afterward.

In Los Angeles, where civic pride is more operative than linguistic, it was decreed that billboards were such an affront to the artistic sense that they should be removed from the public gaze. To decide was to act. Men equipped with instruments of demolition sallied forth on June 1 and began a work which since then has resulted in the removal of 840 garish billboards and has insulated them on a high altar of outraged taste. "The job still is going on and the hope openly is expressed and nursed that before the good work is over 'fully six miles of signs, objected to by the public, will have been eliminated.'"

Six miles of signs eliminated; think of it. Two full leagues of tooth paste, pink pills, ballads' lingerie, chewing gum, garters, etc., snatched from the worried gaze of an aroused people and interned, sans appeal, sans hope. What a place Los Angeles must be!—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Open Spaces Important.

Good housing for the small community means much more than for the great city, because it is possible to have far better standards. And a small city has no excuse—even if a great one pretends to have—for areas in which grass cannot grow or gardens flourish because of smoke and gases. The surroundings of houses may be made attractive. Shrubs and flowers may take the place of expensive construction if good taste is used in their selection and location.

And one of the great features almost entirely neglected in smaller places is one of the most important. Houses may be so arranged as to leave free open spaces for the play of children. Many cities, to be sure, have parks or a park, but a city is all too likely to feel content with itself if it has one or two such places beautifully kept and well fitted to please the eye of grown-ups on a sedate Sunday afternoon walk. Far more important is it to have the houses in every small area of a few blocks so planned as to leave space for games and other public use.

Rats Cause Heavy Losses.

Losses from rats in cities are enormous. In 1908 the biological survey made a careful study of rat infestations in two cities, Washington and Baltimore, with the result that actual losses of produce and other property amounting annually to $400,000 and $700,000, respectively, were revealed. These sums are nearly in ratio to the populations. The Woman's Municipal league of Boston recently announced that losses from rats in that city amounted to $1,350,000 each year. Losses in Pittsburgh, Pa., have been estimated at over $1,000,000 a year.

Licorice in New Jersey.

It is possible that licorice, which now comes from the Mediterranean, may at no distant time be grown in New Jersey. Experiments are now under way with the imported plants.

Coal Output Is Reduced.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Celebration of the holidays caused a drop of 37 per cent in the production record for bituminous coal during the week of Dec. 23 below that of the previous week, according to figures made public by the fuel administration. The estimate for the current week places the bituminous production at 6,385,000 net tons, as against 10,131,000 for the week ended Dec. 21. Anthracite production was estimated at 1,289,000 net tons, compared with 1,539,000 the previous week.

COL. ROOSEVELT DIES SUDDENLY AT OYSTER BAY

Rheumatism Ends Life of Former President Without Warning at Early Morning Hour.

PASSES PEACEFULLY

Had Retired Night Before Feeling Quite Well—Went Home From New York Hospital Only Short Time Ago.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt died in his sleep at his home on Sagamore Hill.

The colonel suffered a severe attack of rheumatism and sciatica on New Year day, but none believed that his illness would likely prove fatal.

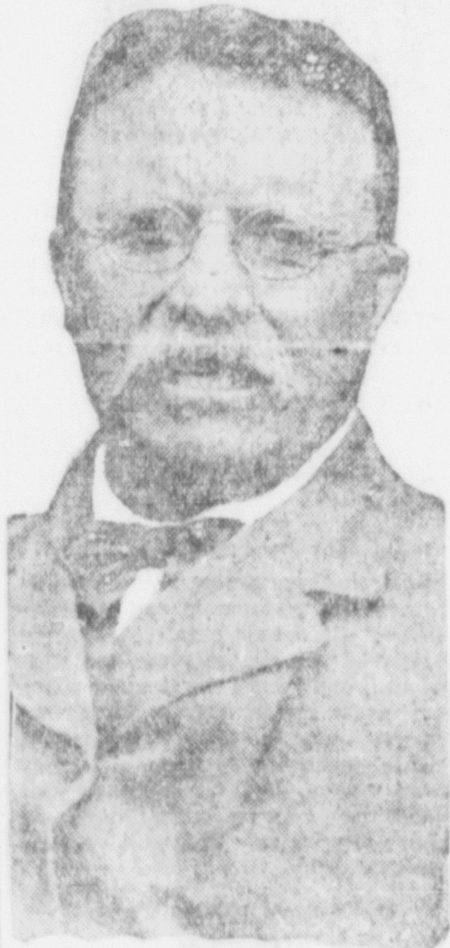

About 4 a. m. Mrs. Roosevelt, who was the only other member of the family at Oyster Bay, went to her husband's room and found that he had died during the night.

Mrs. Roosevelt telephoned to Colonel Emile Roosevelt, cousin of the former president, and he came to the Roosevelt home immediately. Telegrams were dispatched to the colonel's children, who were in other parts of the country. Two of the colonel's sons, Major Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Captain Kermit Roosevelt, are in service abroad.

Colonel Died in His Sleep.

The exact time of Roosevelt's death was 4:45 a. m. as nearly as can be determined. There was no one at his bedside at the time he passed away. A minute or two before his attendant, James Amos, noticed that the patient was breathing heavily in his sleep and went to call a nurse. When he returned with her, the former president was dead. Mrs. Roosevelt was immediately summoned.

Telegrams of condolence and sympathy began to pour in from all parts of the country as soon as news of Colonel Roosevelt's death became known.

Returned Home on Christmas.

The former president came to his home on Sagamore Hill from the Roosevelt hospital on Christmas day but a week later was stricken with a severe attack of rheumatism and sciatica, from which he had been suffering for some time. The rheumatism affected his right hand and it became much swollen.

Flags were placed at half mast in Oyster Bay.

The immediate cause of Colonel Roosevelt's death was pulmonary embolism, or lodgment in the lung of a clot from a broken vein, it was stated by one of the physicians.

Colonel Roosevelt was 60 years old, having been born in New York, Oct. 27, 1858. He was the 26th president of the United States, having succeeded to the presidency on the death of William McKinley, who was shot and killed at Buffalo, N. Y.

ADJOURNS OUT OF RESPECT

Congress Quits When News of Roosevelt's Death Arrives.

Washington, Jan. 7.—Both houses of congress adjourned today as a mark of respect after adopting resolutions of regret at the death of Colonel Roosevelt and providing for the appointment of committees to attend the funeral.

Ford Contests Election.

Washington, Jan. 7.—In a petition received by Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall and laid before the Senate, Henry Ford, democratic candidate for United States senator, defied on the face of returns by Truman H. Newberry, Republican, gave notice of a contest of the seat and asked for a recount of the ballots. Excessive use of money in Newberry's campaign, intimidation of voters, improper rejection of ballots, "flagrant violation" of Michigan election laws were made by Mr. Ford.

PROBABLY STARTED BY GERMAN AGENTS

NO ONE SEEMS TO KNOW SOURCE OF RECENT PROPAGANDA AGAINST GREAT BRITAIN.

LITTLE INCIDENTS MAGNIFIED

Bill for Retirement and Pension of Government Employees Killed by "Fine Work" in Senate—Kinchloe Versus Walsh.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Just why the propaganda against England was started no one can say. That it received an impetus from certain official quarters there seems to be no doubt, and it was believed that it was for the purpose of creating public opinion which would help to back up certain demands at the peace conference. There has been an impression that England's determination to maintain her naval supremacy will interfere to some extent with one of President Wilson's 14 points, that relating to freedom of the seas. Then again it is hinted that the propaganda was started for the purpose of preventing anything like an alliance between the United States and Great Britain. "Do we want an alliance with England?" was the way in which some of this propaganda was introduced. Then there was also the suspicion that it was a part of the German propaganda intended to create a division between the United States and Great Britain.

At all events any little thing that could be used for the purpose of promoting this propaganda was put forth. For instance, attention was brought sharply to the fact that Admiral Beatty, in command of the Grand fleet, in commending the British navy for what it had done during the war, omitted all mention of the part the Americans had taken on the seas, although a big squadron of American ships at that time formed a portion of his fleet. That and similar instances have been brought forward to cause irritation in this country against the British.

Once in a while a bill which nobody wants, but which everybody would have to vote for if a vote were reached, gets in a place of vantage in the senate. There then follows what has come to be known as "fine work" by the senate to defeat the bill, which is generally to prevent a vote upon it. The latest instance of this kind was a bill providing for the pension and retirement of government employees. Senator McKellar of Tennessee "held the bag" and stood sponsor for the bill. For two or three months he had it before the senate as "unfinished business," but he never seemed to be able to get it to a vote. For one cause or another it was put over, there was a lack of a quorum, there was important legislation brought forward, and finally the revenue bill pushed it into the scrapheap. "How well they know how not to do it," remarked Tom Patterson of Colorado when he was a member of the senate, referring to one or two measures which the leaders defeated, much as this bill has been, without ever having a roll call.

There has been criticism, or something like fleeting comment, upon the number of officers in uniform in Washington, but very little attention has been paid to any of these strictures until there appeared from the pen of Senator James Hamilton Lewis in a newspaper a very satirical article on the subject. Few men are more adept than Senator Lewis in handling words, and the manner in which he discussed the numerous military officers in Washington will no doubt have a tendency to decrease the display of army uniforms now that the war is over. General regret is expressed for those men, officers or soldiers, who desired an opportunity to get into the real active service abroad and could not go, but it has been known from the beginning of the war that thousands of men donned uniforms who were never expected to get outside of the United States. They are the men who have come in for sarcastic comments such as Senator Lewis recently uttered.

From admiration to disgust in two minutes; that is what happened to Congressman Kinchloe's feelings for Congressman Walsh in the house recently. Kinchloe was advocating something and Walsh was questioning the sense of it. "I have a great regard for the gentleman from Massachusetts," remarked Kinchloe, and then went on to try to win Walsh over to his side. A couple of minutes later, after a sharp interchange of argument, "I cannot tell the gentleman anything," said Kinchloe; "he knows too much now."

"I am willing to stand a test with the gentleman," replied Walsh. "I would not," hotly asserted the Kentucky man, "contest anything with the narrow-minded gentleman." But after a day's reflection he had the words "narrow-minded" removed from the permanent record.

Made Presentable.

Constance had been visiting at the neighbor's and came home accompanied by two of her little playmates. As she brought them in with her she made this remark to her mother: "I washed both their faces before I brought them over."

City Council Votes Thanks to Mrs. J. A. Thabes, Red Cross, Health Board and Doctors

At the city council meeting Monday evening Mayor R. A. Beise submitted the name of A. A. Arnold, Northeast Brainerd merchant, as a member of the water and light board to succeed the late R. B. Withington, and it was confirmed.

The mayor appointed W. L. Ludlow as patrolman, but the council did not O. K. it, nine voting against confirmation and Alderman Hall in favor.

The council extended a vote of thanks to Mrs. J. A. Thabes, the Red Cross, health board and doctors for efficiency shown in combating the influenza epidemic and managing the emergency hospital. The balance as shown by the report was asked to be transferred to the city, as so recommended in the report made by Mrs. Thabes.

Henry I. Cohen addressed the council on fire insurance rates and the need of improvements to comply with the request of fire insurance underwriters. Others speaking included W. H. Cleary, Mayor R. A. Beise, R. R. Wise, D. A. Peterson and F. H. Gruehagen.

On motion of Aldermen Hall and Turcotte, the president appointed two aldermen to investigate the fire pump, being Aldermen Lyonsals and Stallman.

The application of Arthur W. Olson for a pool table and cigar license was granted.

Cigarette licenses were granted Wm. LeMire and C. L. LeMire.

C. M. Smith was refused a junk license.

A water main in Northeast Brainerd, as asked for by petition, was referred to the fire and water committees of the council and the water and light board.

A communication from City Treasurer D. A. Peterson stated two funds were overdrawn.

The chief of police was requested to continue inspection of basements. City Clerk Mahlum reported receipts in December of $18,172.44 and disbursements of $6,990.67. The receipts were heavy because they included the November tax settlement of $17,758.58.

High test gasoline was ordered for the fire truck.

A wood door is to be added to the entrance of city hall.

Chief of Police John D. Gile reported nine arrests in December, being one state and eight city cases. Fines collected were $55.

BRAINERD'S ODDEST STORIES OF TODAY

Advertising pays. Young Milton Bergstrand lost $45.00 worth of war savings stamps belonging to his big sister, his father and himself and then inserted a "Lost" want in the Dispatch. The stamps were found by Assistant Postmaster George W. Grewe near the Y. M. C. A. and by him returned to Bergstrand. Milton says he has lost his job of custodian of the stamps.

DISTRICT COURT IN PROCEEDING TODAY

Case of Koochiching County vs Elder et al on Trial Today, First on Civil Call

THE GRAND JURY IS VERY BUSY

Preliminary Call Disposes of a Number of Cases, One Sentence on Criminal Call

In district court the first civil case called on the calendar was that of the County of Koochiching vs George A. Elder, Commercial Investment Co. of Duluth, John Nuveen & Co., Chicago, et al. It is a suit brought on change of venue from Koochiching county to Crow Wing county to recover on the sale of ditch bonds alleged to have been fraudulently made.

N. B. Arnold made the opening address to the jury, which is largely composed of farmers. Farmers of the jury are Frank A. Johnson, Olsen Skau, Ole Larson, Jesse R. Britton, Andrew Peterson, Lars Sampson, Jesse Pietari, the rest are S. E. Engbreitson, a business man; Henry Abrahamson, plumber, and C. L. Johnson and Charles Falkenberg of the railway shops, Charles O. Beck of the Mahlum Lumber Co.

Attorney F. E. Ebner of Brainerd, appearing with John H. Hill of Chicago, for John Nuveen & Co., Chicago bankers, objected to the language of the complaint and to the general charge of conspiracy alleged. He claimed that the first thirteen allegations of the complaint showed the entire bond transaction had been negotiated and done by Elder, that Nuveen & Co.'s action was entirely without fraud. He contended that a dismissal in a former case as to certain alleged co-conspirators, tended to absolve all complained of.

The jury had been excused while this phase of the case, being an effort of counsel to secure a dismissal of the case as it affected the Chicago bank, was argued.

Assisting N. B. Arnold of Duluth is M. E. Ryan, a Brainerd lawyer.

The grand jury has been very busy, but so far no indictments have been made public. It is presumed that cases charging infractions of liquor laws are under consideration.

The preliminary call, in addition to disposing of cases as previously mentioned, resulted in striking off the calendar Johnstown Land Co. vs Brainerd Brewing Co.

Defendant asked for leave to amend his answer in The Mantle Lamp Co. vs Fred Richter. In Max Greenberg et al vs The Flitzer Co. defendant moved to dismiss. In Howard Spencer vs Gregory Koering there was notice of motion to dismiss the appeal for insufficiency of appeal.

At the roll call of the grand jury of the district court all were present except A. K. Lukens, Fred T. Lincoln, E. M. Prindle, Wm. C. Deering, L. J. Clouse, H. V. Flansburg who were excused by order of Judge W. S. McClenahan. Fred J. Reid was appointed foreman. The grand jury was sworn and charged by the court and retired in charge of officer W. W. Winter.

Grand Jurors C. G. Osterlund and George W. Wetherbee came in and presented satisfactory excuse for being late. Mr. Osterlund exercised his right of exemption as a registered pharmacist and was excused. Mr. Wetherbee was sworn as a grand juror and charged by the court.

In the case of Grace Canfield, charged with assault and battery, defendant was before the court Tuesday and was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail. The sentence was suspended pending good behavior and providing she leave the county and stay away.

HARRY HEDLUND SAW PRESIDENT IN FRANCE

Writes His Parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hedlund, 1410 Pine Street Southeast

ALL PARIS WENT SIMPLY WILD

Parades Lasted Two Days, Banners Carried Read "Vive Wilson," Soldiers Glad to see Pres.

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hedlund of 1410 South-east Pine street, Pte. Harry Hedlund describes scenes in Paris at the time of President Wilson's first entry and the wonderful reception accorded him by France and American soldiers:

Paris, Dec. 16, 1918.

Dear Sister:

Just a line to let you know that I am well, and hope you are the same. President Wilson arrived in Paris last Saturday 14th, and I had the pleasure of seeing him in the parade from the train to his quarters. The people were simply wild. It took me a couple of hours to get out of the crowd after the parade had passed. All day Saturday and Sunday the streets were packed, and one bunch after another starting parades all yelling "Wilson," and carrying banners reading "Vive Wilson." There are many electric signs on the streets reading "Wilson." A few of us went to town Sunday and saw the American place headquarters, and the streets there were packed waiting for a chance to see the president if he should show up. I was talking to an American yesterday who had been to church where Wilson was and he told me the church was packed and all along the street people were yelling "Wilson." It makes us feel good to see the way these people praise our president. All the American soldiers had one part of the boulevard to see the parade from, and the president sure saw a lot of us there and we were all more than pleased to see him.

I went to the Notre Dame Sunday with my Bud. That is a very old and ancient Catholic church and it was wonderful, and the music from their pipe organ was great. It seems queer to me not to see any snow this time of the year, and especially to be able to be around without an overcoat, the weather is like springtime.

I hope to take a trip to some of the battlefields very soon to see what it looks like. Many of the boys have some very interesting souvenirs that they have gotten from the battle fields.

I met a fellow Saturday who was from Little Falls. He was in the Polish army. He told me he could not get into the American army so he enlisted in the Polish army, but he says he is very anxious to get back home again. I knew I had seen that face before so I asked him if he wasn't from the states. I only had a few moments to talk with him while waiting for a subway.

I like my work very much and am sure the time will pass quickly until the day when I will be home again.

Love, HARRY.

Card of Thanks We wish to express our sincerest thanks to all friends for their kindness and sympathy shown us in our late bereavement when wife and mother was taken from our midst. May God bless you one and all.

The committee wish to acknowledge the many contributions of food, such as jellies, desserts, fruits, etc. from Brainerd housewives. The comfort of the patients was added to greatly by the good beds, mattresses, dishes, bed-linen, blankets, etc., loaned by private citizens, as well as by the N. P. hospital, Sisters of St. Joseph's hospital, hotels and Elks lodge.

In fact the work of the committee and the efficiency of the hospital was made possible by the combined co-operation of the doctors, private individuals, merchants and even policemen.

In concluding my report, I beg to offer the following recommendation based on the opinion of the physicians of the city and this committee: that the city council take immediate

Poor to fancy calves.....	8.75@15.75
Western range steers.....	10.00@18.00

These newspaper quotations represent live cattle prices in Chicago on December 30th, 1918.

The list shows price ranges on nine general classified groups with a spread of $13.85 per cwt.—the lowest at $6.50, and the highest at $20.35.

Why this variation in price?

Because the meat from different animals varies greatly in quality and weight.

Although the quotations shown are in nine divisions, Swift & Company grades cattle into 34 general classes, and each class into a variety of weights and qualities.

As a result of these differences in cattle prices, (due to differences in weights and meat qualities), there is a range of 15 cents in Swift & Company's selling prices of beef carcasses.

These facts explain:

- 1—Why retail prices vary in different stores.
- 2—Why it would be difficult to regulate prices of cattle or beef.
- 3—Why it requires experts to judge cattle and to sell meat, so as to yield the profit of only a fraction of a cent a pound—a profit too small to affect prices.

FAVORS LEAGUE IF NOT TOO STRONG

SENATE WOULD INDORSE UNION OF NATIONS TO USE MORAL SUASION AGAINST WAR.

MORE TALK OF CANDIDATES

Queer but Persistent Idea That Nominations Taken From Senate Is Handicapped—Weeks Scores on Fletcher Concerning Ship Purchase Bill.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—No other one subject to come before the peace conference has caused as much agitation and discussion in this country as the league of nations. There is yet a very indefinite idea as to how the league will be formed and what will be its functions, but the impression seems to be that it will not be much more than one of moral suasion and that it will have no extraordinary powers to enforce peace. So hostile are the people generally to war that they will indorse almost any action that tends to prevent war, but there is reason to believe that many of the statesmen who have to handle the subject will oppose anything like a substantial league of nations, such as a super-government which will control all governments. There has been enough open and private discussion in the senate to indicate that a treaty of peace giving a league of nations any great power cannot be ratified. But a league which is to use its moral force, its earnest efforts, its persuasive powers to prevent war is almost sure to receive hearty indorsement.

As war activities cease politics comes to the front. There is constant discussion of presidential possibilities and leading politicians sometimes express their opinions, and a great many men are casting about for suitable candidates to go before the next national convention. It is rather curious to observe in connection with politics how strong tradition and precedent are with most political writers. Every little while it is pointed out that the only successful candidate for president ever taken from the senate was Benjamin Harrison, although at the same time mention is made of James A. Garfield. As a matter of fact, Harrison was not taken from the senate. He had been out of the senate two years when he became president. Garfield never entered the senate, but was still serving in the house, although he had been elected as senator from Ohio. But some way an impression prevails that there is a hoodoo upon senatorial candidates and possibly that is one reason why many men look elsewhere for a Republican candidate in 1920, although there is in the senate such material as Lodge of Massachusetts, Wadsworth of New York, Knox of Pennsylvania, Harding of Ohio, Kilgore of Minnesota, Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California, any of whom might be called available if their reputations had been made anywhere outside of the senate.

There is always more or less harking back to something that happened long ago and there are men who cannot refrain from reminding fellow-members of congress when they were right and some other people were wrong. Such was the case when Senator Fletcher of Florida was making a speech on shipping conditions and criticized Republicans for defeating the first ship-purchase bill, a measure that never was able to command a majority in the senate. But always there is somebody to make a reply. Senator Weeks of Massachusetts insisted that one reason why that bill was defeated was that its sponsors would not accept an amendment providing that the government should not purchase the German ships interned in American harbors. "We obtained the German ships somewhat later," remarked Senator Weeks, with something like a satiric smile on his face, "and at a lower price than it was then the purpose to pay for them."

One day while there was a discussion over what this section or that section had obtained Senator Smith of Georgia remarked: "An effort has been made to cause the impression that many offices were given to the South by the administration. My state fared in this respect better under President Taft than it has under President Wilson."

"The same claim is made by some other Democratic states," interjected Senator King of Utah. Senator Smith went on to say that a Supreme court justice and an interstate commerce commissioner were selected by President Taft from Georgia, and when those men died the places went to Massachusetts.

Photographers are making money out of the war these days. It is impossible to go around anywhere in the neighborhood of government bureaus and departments without seeing a number of people grouped on the steps or against the buildings, having their pictures taken. There are, or were, 60,000 war workers in Washington, and probably 90 per cent of them will have been photographed before they leave the government service.

DAILY HEALTH TALKS

A Single Remedy Often Cures Many Diseases

By VALENTINE MOTT, M. D.

It is almost impossible to give a list of the endless diseases that follow indigestion. Perhaps a whole column in this newspaper would be required to print them all. You eat to keep alive—to supply blood and flesh and bone and muscle and brain. It is easy to see that if your food is not digested and taken up by the delicate organs and distributed where it is needed, a disease of some sort is sure to come. Dyspepsia is a common symptom, and so are liver complaint, loss of flesh, nervousness, bad memory, dizziness, sleeplessness, no appetite. Many times, when neglected, indigestion results in coughs, throat diseases, catarrh, bronchitis and even more dangerous things. And all these disorders arise because the food is not properly digested in the stomach. It is plain even to a child that relief and cure are to be had only by setting up a healthy condition in the stomach. Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., many years ago combined a number of vegetable growths into a temperance remedy for indigestion, and called it Golden Medical Discovery. It is probably the most efficacious discovery ever made in medicine, for the list of people all over the world who have had their countless ills overcome by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes an amazing total of thousands.

I know of no advice better than this: Begin a home treatment today with this good vegetable medicine. It will show you better than I can tell you what it will do. When taking Golden Medical Discovery, you can rest assured of one very important thing—it contains neither alcohol nor opium. There is nothing in it but standard roots and herbs that possess curative properties of a high order. A safe medicine is the only kind you can afford to take.

WILSON COMING HOME SOON

May Return to Europe After Present Congress Adjourns.

Paris, Jan. 7.—President Wilson will return to the United States to attend the closing sessions of the present Congress, according to present plans, and will come back to France for the later sittings of the peace congress.

The President will make several addresses to Congress.

American Wounded Mutilated. With the Allied Army of the Dvina, Jan. 7.—Further evidence that the Bolsheviks are mutilating Allied wounded and dead came to headquarters in a report from Lieutenant Colonel Corbier, who was in command of American forces in the vicinity of Shenkursk. Americans were the victims, according to the report. A patrol of 60 American soldiers and two officers was surprised by a force of about 700 Bolsheviks. Seven Americans were killed and seven others were maiming after the fight.

KAISER'S SON GETS A JOB

Prince August Wilhelm to Work for Automobile Company.

Copenhagen, Jan. 7.—Prince August Wilhelm, fourth son of the former Kaiser, has obtained a job with the Benz Automobile company, according to a Berlin dispatch.

August Wilhelm was reported to have been wounded in December, 1914, when the French shelled his motor car near Rheims. That, so far as records show, is his chief claim to fame. The dispatch failed to mention what kind of a job he had taken.

Hopes to Check Bolshevism.

Paris, Jan. 7.—Announcement of the appointment of Herbert C. Hoover to be director general of the inter-Allied organization to feed Allied, neutral and enemy peoples is considered in high American circles here as indicating a program far more important than arranging for supplies of food and shipping. Mr. Hoover's statement, that food would "banish the specter of Bolshevism," gives evidence of one of the larger purposes of the relief plans.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit. The kidneys are the most over-worked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease. One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism. Do not wait until the danger is upon you. At the first indication of trouble go after the cause at once. Get a trial box of GOLD MEDAL HAMMILL OIL Capsules, imported direct from the laboratories in Holland. They will give almost immediate relief. If for any cause they should not, your money will be refunded. But be sure to get GOLD MEDAL. None other is genuine. In sealed boxes, three sizes.

OLD-TIME COLD CURE—DRINK HOT TEA!

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking up a cold. Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB RHEUMATISM FROM STIFF ACHING JOINTS

Rub Soreness from joints and muscles with a small trial bottle of old St. Jacobs Liniment.

Stop "dosing" Rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Liniment" right on the "tender spot," and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain. "St. Jacobs Liniment" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache, neuralgia. Limber up! Get a 30 cent bottle of old-time, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" from any drug store, and in a moment you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.
